CITY COUNCIL.

The weekly meeting of the City Council was held last evening. Present: McKillican, Robertson, Earle, Teague, Ward, Smith, Warner and Braden.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From J. D. Ross, asking for the use of part of Wharf street for building purposes. Granted.

From Hon. Simeon Duck in regard to a nuisance on the south side of Herald street. Laid on the table.

From Davie & Pooley, account re Tales, for professional services, $25. Referred to Finance Committee.

MOTIONS.

Councillor Smith moved, seconded by Councillor McKillican, that $500 be placed to the credit of the water works committee for the purchase of water pipes in San Francisco to complete the work now in progress.

Councillor Ward said out of the estimated surplus revenue we have already expended $56,000, which is $9000 more than we really ought to have expended, and having three months yet to serve we have no money for that purpose.

Councillor McKillican thought the expenditure should be made, because the street was now opened and it should be filled out and finished.

Councillor Braden also spoke in favor of the motion, and Councillor Smith vindicated his conduct on this matter in a warm speech.

Councillors Earle, in asking for explanations, said that work should be performed in rotation. Work ordered to be done by the Council had not been touched, and work ordered later had been finished. The motion was put and carried.

Councillor Smith moved, seconded by Councillor McKillican, that tenders be called for not less than 120 tons of water pipe, to be delivered some time next year. Carried.

Councillor Smith moved that the manager of the Bank of B. C. be authorized to cash a check for $2,[illegible] in favor of R. B. McMicking, being the last instalment for the electric light purchase, said check to be signed by one member of the finance committee, the Mayor and Water Works Commissioner. Carried.

From Dr. Jackson, reporting Mr. Miller discharged from quarantine, as there was now no danger that he would be attacked with smallpox. Received and filed.

From Sergt. Flewin, reporting a number of nuisances on Pisguard, McClure and Herald streets.

Councillor Earle moved that the usual notices be served and that the nuisance near Herald street be referred to the street committee to report. Carried.

The Fire Wardens reported that Mr. Hambley and Mr. Redfern had been notified to remove the new wooden buildings erected on their premises, and as no notice had been taken that a resolution to be passed in accordance with the provisions of the by-law; also recommending that one thousand feet of hose be purchased as recommended by the fire department.

Councillor Warner moved that this Council authorize the Superintendent of Police to pull down the said buildings, after the expiration of seven days.

Councillor Ward explained that this was the only course open to the Council. It was proposed to bring these gentlemen before the Police Magistrate, but the by-law did not provide such a course.

Resolution was seconded by Councillor Ward and carried.

Councillor Smith said that the architect of the new theatre had connected the water closets direct with the main, and that he had ordered it to be changed or the water would be turned off.

His Worship said that the directors had given orders to have the pipes connected according to the regulations, and that the closets would not be used until such had been done.

CLOSING SALOONS.

The by-law regulating Sunday observance was brought forward for its second reading.

Councillor Earle said the by-law contained certain things he could not support.

Councillor Smith opposed the by-law. Portions of it were framed in the superstitious spirit which animated our forefathers. Victoria was the most moral city on the coast.

Councillor McKillican said that every time any by-law was proposed for elevation of society or the protection of the morals of the people, Councillor Smith jumped up and protested. The fact that our jail had one hundred inmates did not prove that our city was a highly moral one.

Councillor Ward thought Councillor McKillican should have confined himself to the closing of the saloons; he had, however, gone farther and would defeat his own object. The by-law was similar to one formerly brought in defeated, and it could not again be introduced this year. The saloon keepers are unanimous in desiring to close their saloons.

Councillor Robertson said Councillor McKillican had first tried the thick end of the wedge and failed, and now he was trying the thin end. He may be cut out for a reformer but he did not appear to succeed. There were several good clauses which he could heartily support, but there were others, particularly those in regard to Sunday observance, which he could not support.

Councillor Ward expressed a doubt as to the power of the Council to regulate the morals of the young. Councillor McKillican should take legal advice and be sure that he was acting within the law.

Councillor Robertson said he hoped Councillor McKillican would go further and stop public exhibitions of a brutal character, such as boxing. These affairs were repugnant to every right thinking man, and he for one would vote for a prohibitory clause of that character.

The by-law, by consent, was left over till next meeting.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Councillor McKillican spoke of the custom of the men who removed the night soil in selling it to Chinese gardeners. The practice was an outrageous one and calculated to breed disease.

Councillor Robertson asked how it was that Fernwood road and Chambers street had not been completed as decided by the Council.

Councillor Earle said that the work had been completed in a manner satisfactory to the residents.

Councillor Ward suggested that a meeting be held with the Board of Delegates on next Monday evening, which was agreed to.

Councillor Earle suggested that the Drainage Committee should meet and go into the schemes submitted by the engineers for a system of drainage. It was agreed to meet at 8 p. m. Monday next in the Mayor's office.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

A MORBAL COWARD.

"Dost thou love hawking? Thou hast hawks will soar,

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—An incident possibly worth mentioning occurred in my paddock this morning. The continued screaming of a blue jay led to the sudden desertion of the breakfast table, when a small hawk (query Rhynchodon sparverius) was discovered engaged in mortal combat with a jay, heavier than itself. One of the party promptly placed the hook he had in his hand upon the birds, and was able to pick up both, still fighting. It may be a question for ornithologists whether the "horrid din of war" or the opposite tendency of Teutonic verbs (the volume happened to be in German), made the double capture feasible. The jay was released and flew off chattering, ready, five months hence—redolent of youth to breathe another spring," apparently unhurt, though with a somewhat dissipated appearance in one eye. The hawk was incarcerated, and a few hours afterwards enjoyed a meal of raw beef. Is it too much to hope that with a large number of Falconidæ in the province, falconry will some day find a few devotees? Many suburban residents have noted an unusual number of hawks, and other birds, this autumn, in the vicinity of the city, which they attribute to the extensive bush fires of last summer.

Moss St., Oct. 22. PERSONNE.

PARTY LINES DISCUSSION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—The Colonist in an editorial this morning remarks, that party lines in the future will be more closely drawn between political parties in this province. Such no doubt will be the case, and worthy men found to fill the places of our Provincial councillors and guides, when reason, not debauchery, shall be the standard. He forgets, however, to mention lines which already exist, and being strained to their utmost tension, by despotism and slavery on the one hand, and suffering and want on the other. He credits Sir John Macdonald with carrying out the agreement entered into between the Dominion, and this province at the time of federation. No doubt it is being carried out; but at what expense to the people we cannot as yet realize. The people in the future will curse as betrayers, those who made the agreement, and curse the Dominion government for that liberality which is costing the people so much, and it individually so little that this pet scheme of a few capitalists might be accomplished and the railway handed over to them as a present from those individuals of the government who receive their support. The people shall judge whether it was a tangible act, and to whom the credit is due. No grievance! is shouted by the Colonist, as the present condition of British Columbians, to unalead outside public opinion, and to make believe all are happy and contented. Contented with what, I would ask? Contented with being slaves, or at least being forced down to that position. Out upon you Britons! Look back to the honored historic page and read there the heart-thrilling deeds of our forefathers, and say:—"These were my ancestors, the same blood flows in my veins that flowed in theirs, the same glorious standard shall lead me, and that standard shall be freedom and harmony." Still shout "no grievance," thou deceiver; but the lie shall be plucked from thy mouth with the treacherous tongue that utters it.

Victoria, Oct. 22. PRINCIPIA.

MAINTAINING ORDER.

Report of the Governor of Washington Territory on the Recent Troubles.

Governor Watson C. Squire, of Washington Territory, has sent a special report to the Secretary of the Interior upon the anti-Chinese agitation in that Territory. The Governor says there has been much agitation on the subject of forcing the Chinese residents to leave the country, particularly in the counties bordering on Puget Sound. Several public meetings have been held, at which were present delegates of the Knights of Labor, and violent incendiary speeches were made. The principal point for these demonstrations has been at Seattle, and there has been a great deal of agitation at Tacoma. Thus far there has been no outbreak, although serious trouble has been threatened. The persons accused of killing Chinese have been arrested, and eight are now in jail under indictment for murder in the first degree. Strong efforts have been made to intimidate Chinese employers at the Franklin and Newcastle coal mines, and many Chinese are leaving. These places are now quiet, but the coal companies are anxious in regard to the safety of their property. The Chinese Consul at San Francisco was informed that the persons accused of murdering Chinese had been arrested. The governor says it has been his desire to maintain order without the employment of troops, and a strong organization, of the better class of citizens at Seattle has arrayed itself under the law for the preservation of peace. The situation has been improving from day to day, and it is concluded now that no necessity exists for calling on the military. If serious trouble occur the Secretary will be notified by telegraph, and if troops should be required there is ample force at Vancouver Barracks, within a few hours of the disturbed community.

POLICE COURT.

(Before Messrs. Sleabolt and McLean, J.P.s.)

James Eckersley, charged with stealing a dog from E. Johnson. Mr. Johnson appealed to the bench to dismiss the charge. The dog had been recovered, and as he had been informed that defendant bore a good character, he had no personal desire to press the charge. The bench in discharging defendant, said it had no doubt that he had made himself liable to imprisonment, but, in consideration of the appeal of the prosecutor, the case would be dismissed.

Charley and Louis, Fort Rupert Indians; Charley, a Belle Coola, drunks, fined $5 or one week.

Henry Harris and Albert Barrett, assaulting a Chinaman. There being no interpreter present, the case was remanded until to morrow.

THE OHIO ELECTION.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 22.—The canvass of the vote of Hamilton county, was completed this morning. The total footings, unofficial, excluding precinct E of 18th ward, show that Hoadley received 34,527 and Forsker 33,928, a majority of 599 for Hoadley. The highest vote received by a Republican Senator was 99 less than the lowest on the Democrat list, and 2,599 less than the highest. The votes for Representatives is still closer, but footings have not been completed. The Democratic county officers are elected, except Kuhn for Commissioner. If the missing precinct is counted, it will increase Democratic majority about one hundred. An exciting legal fight is now in progress. The Republican attorneys this morning filed a petition in the Circuit Court, asking for an mandamus, directing the clerk how to proceed with the count, by instructing him what are and what are not legal returns. The hearing of this petition is fixed for 2 o'clock. In the meantime if a restraining order was issued last night it should be dissolved the clerk might complete his work before 2 o'clock, and the jurisdiction of the court would be gone. After considerable talk, the argument before Judge Buckwalter, upon the motion to dissolve the restraining order, and also open a demurrer to petition, was proceeded. The expected argument will occupy the time until 2 o'clock, when the mandamus proceeding will operate to hold the clerk until it can be determined.

THE ROUMELIAN QUESTION.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 22.—The Journal de St. Petersburg, commenting on the Roumelian question, says that Prince Alexander appears to ignore the fact that his submission to the powers is duly created by the Treaty of Berlin, and there has been no intention on the part of Bulgaria to return status quo ante. It regrets the action of Servia and Greece in ordering formidable armaments, and declares that Russia, more than any other power, must prevent fratricidal contests in the Balkans. The journal is pronounced in its denunciations of Bulgaria for having brought about the present state of affairs, and says the powers are unanimous in a desire to restore the status quo ante, and although such an action is bristling with obstacles and pitfalls, this unanimity justified hope of success.

DASTARDLY ATTEMPT AT ASSASSINATION.

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 21.—A desperate attempt was made at 5 o'clock this afternoon to assassinate Premier Estrupp by a youth named Rasmussen, a compositor. Rasmussen fired two shots from a revolver at the Premier. When in the act of firing a third shot the would be assassin was seized by a couple of detectives, a number of whom have constantly been in attendance on the Premier for some time past owing to the extreme hatred of the populace toward him and other members of the Cabinet. The assassin was hurriedly taken to prison, the officials fearing that an attempt at a rescue would be made. The first shot struck on a button on Herr Estrupp's coat and glanced off. Rasmussen declares that his motives were political, as Herr Estrupp's conduct in the present controversy in Denmark is inimical to the State.

FERDINAND WARD IN COURT.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—An immense crowd of people filled the court of Oyer and Terminer this morning to listen to the proceedings in the trial of Ferdinand Ward. The latter was present in the custody of the Warden of Ludlow street jail, his face was pale with his long confinement, but otherwise he appeared as well as usual. When the District Attorney called Ward's case, General Tracy, Ward's counsel stated he desired to withdraw the plea "not guilty," which client had entered, and called the attention of the court to the fifth count in the indictment. He said it was for the same offense as that charged in the first count, larceny and obtaining goods under false pretences. There were therefore two distinct counts charged in different counts of the same indictment. Judge Barnet replied that the two crimes were really but two different aspects of the same facts and they could properly be embraced under the same facts. The demurrer was over-ruled and prisoner called on to plead again, and his counsel changed his plea to "not guilty." The work of obtaining a jury then commenced.

THE IRISH NATIONAL LEAGUE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Charles A. Dana presided to-night at a large meeting of the Irish National League held for the purpose of raising money to aid Parnell in Ireland. This cablegram was sent to Parnell:

"The Irishmen of America in New York at a meeting presided over by the editor of the New York Sun, send expression of their sympathy and assurance of their support, and send $10,000 through Dr. O'Reilly to aid in your efforts for Ireland."

RUSSIA'S PACIFIC TRADE.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 22.—Russia, desiring to revive trade in her Pacific coast possessions, has authorized the annual fairs to be held near the Corean frontier.

MINE EXPLOSION.

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 22.—An explosion occurred this morning at Raccoon Pits, in Chesterfield county. One hundred men were in the mine at the time. Only one was killed and three wounded.

MOVING AGAINST KING THEBAW.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—The authorities at Woolwich Arsenal have been ordered to supply 10,000,000 rounds of cartridges and 20,000 rifles for an expedition to be sent against King Thebaw of Burmah.

INVASION OF BURMAH.

CALCUTTA, Oct. 22.—Contingents of the Indian Army from Madras and this city are being rapidly transported to Rangoon, where the expeditionary force is being assembled for the invasion of Burmah. The Burmese government is actively preparing to resist the advance of British troops. Engineers are busily engaged in erecting breast works, planting torpedoes, building fire rafts, loading hulks with stones, and sinking them, and placing chains across the river to obstruct navigation.

A DIPLOMATIC NOTE.

BERLINER, Oct. 22.—The diplomatic corps in this city has addressed a note to the Servian government with a view of arresting further belligerent action by Servia.

RIEL DOOMED.

The Privy Council To-Day Dismiss the Appeal—The Case in the hands of the Government—Trouble Feared.

SPECIAL TO THE TIMES.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—The Privy Council has dismissed the appeal of Louis Riel against the sentence of death passed upon him by the Canadian courts. This means that Riel will hang, unless the clemency of the crown be exercised in his behalf.

The responsibility of dealing with the case has thus been thrown on the government. That the situation is a grave one none who has watched the current of public opinion in the eastern provinces will deny. In the Province of Quebec, where the French element predominates, the sympathy felt for Riel is an unmistakable one. If the government allows the law to take its course a large conservative following will be alienated. In the other provinces—especially Ontario, Manitoba and the Northwest—so decided is the hostility that if the gallows is cheated out of its victim many who have hitherto professed fealty to the Conservative party will renounce their political leaders and join the Liberals. In any event the government is in a dilemma, and it must elect on which horn it is best to escape.

Commenting on the recent rebellion and the aid Riel supposed would be extended to him by his French compatriots, the Montreal Star adds "that a vast majority of the French speaking people in Canada have been steady, unswerving supporters of the present government—the government that has had to do with the half-breeds and upon whom the blame for any errors in their treatment must fall. Our French Canadian fellow citizens have not lacked for able and powerful representation in the Dominion, and with the interests of their race watched over by such men as Sir Hector Langevin and the Hon. Mr. Chapleau not to mention the Hon. Minister of Militia, it is too much to say that the rights of the French half-breeds in the Northwest were being trampled on. At any rate, if they were being trampled on, who supported in power the men by whom, or with whose consent, the wrong was being perpetrated? First and foremost the solid phalanx of French Canadian Conservatives. The time has come, we have said, to review the whole situation calmly, and if both sides can bring themselves to do this there will be an end of recriminations. The questions for all good citizens to-day, so far as Riel is concerned, is, what ought the government to do with him? The question as to his race or religion is wholly irrelevant, and ought to be severely ruled out of the discussion.—No man indeed can view the matter honestly who brings forward such a consideration."

THE RESPITE

expires on the 26th, (next Monday). If a further respite is not granted the law must take its course, and Louis Riel will be hanged, in accordance with the sentence pronounced on him at his recent trial.

RIEL'S SPIRITUAL AFFAIRS.

A Regina dispatch says that Riel, so far as health is concerned, is No. 1. When the deputy sheriff conveyed him the news of his second respite till the 26th, he coolly received the information as a matter of course. Still, the unfortunate man cannot hide his worst fears. A day or two ago he addressed his spiritual adviser, Pere Andre: "Father," said he, "I ask you one favor, and I'm sure you'll not refuse me." "What is that?" inquired the father. "It is," replied Riel, "that you will ask Archbishop Tache to allow me to say mass." "Who ordained you a priest?" remarked the father. "The Spirit," answered Riel. "Well, Monsieur Riel," said the pere, "I cannot acknowledge the authority of that 'Spirit.' You had better give over your romancing and attend to your proper religious duties. Think less of the impudence of your 'Spirit.'" The photograph business is burst up. Very little of the $250,000 is coming forward, and negotiations towards the taking of Riel's photo have gone to limbo.

A ROYAL SPECULATOR.

The Prince of Wales Takes a Hand in American Oil.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The World says: Quite a sensation was caused in the Consolidated Stock and Petroleum Exchange yesterday by the report that the Prince of Wales had actually entered into American speculation and purchased a half-million barrels of oil. The order came by cable on Thursday, so it was said, and was executed by the principal broker for the Standard Oil Company. Many smiled at the report as "moonshine," but many on the other hand believed it, declaring the Prince has been known to speculate on the London Stock Exchange, and there was no reason why he should not take a "turn" in the American oil market. If the report be true, his Royal Highness has evidently been given a large "point," for there was a marked advance of 1½ cents per barrel to-day, from 102½ to 107, the latter being the last price. The transactions yesterday were enormous, aggregating 15,000,000 barrels. Several large stock operators were declared to be "short" on oil, and they helped the advance by purchases to cover. P. D. Armour, the Chicago packer, is said to have bought 2,000,000 barrels on the "long" side.

JOHN RUSSELL YOUNG.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 22.—The report that John Russell Young is lying at the point of death in this city is denied by his friends. Young has been suffering for some time past from malaria, but is now convalescing, and his physicians say will surely recover.

INVITED TO A CONFERENCE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 22.—The Porte has issued a circular inviting the powers to a conference at Constantinople, to be held with the object of settling the Roumelian difficulty.

BIG LAND SALE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—A meeting of the Northern Pacific directors is now in session. It is stated that they have confirmed the sale of about eighty thousand acres of land to an American syndicate at about $7 per acre.

WILL IT BE GRANTED?

The limitation clause in the contract between the government and the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, whereby it is stipulated that the Dominion government, for a period of twenty years, will prohibit the construction of railway lines to within fifteen miles of the boundary, "except such lines as run south and west of the main line," which roads are supposed to act as feeders, but not competitors, to the Canadian transcontinental railway. This restrictive clause is intended to apply to the country lying between Lake Superior and the Pacific coast. While the contract was being discussed in Parliament during the session of 1880-1 it was held by many that the granting of such a monopoly clause to the company would materially retard the progress and development of Manitoba and the Northwest territories. The Manitoba members were specially persistent in their hostility to the clause, as already several companies had secured charters and legislative consent to construct lines of railway throughout that province. They became reconciled on being assured by the premier that "we cannot check Manitoba." Subsequent events, however, have demonstrated the shallowness of that assertion for every charter previously granted was disallowed, and the land grant to the Manitoba Southwestern cancelled, and construction thereon consequently brought to a stand still at the village of Carman, some sixty miles southwest of Winnipeg. The city of Emerson had a charter which could not be disallowed, but in order to compromise matters, on certain conditions, it was surrendered to the C. P. R. Company. A connection was made between the Pembina Mountain division of the Canadian Pacific and the line on the east of the Red river and operated for a couple of years. The city involved itself in a heavy debt to aid the company in securing that connection; in fact it is a thoroughly bankrupt municipality. A few weeks since, without any notice or the consent of EMERSON, the rails were removed from this line, the ties taken up and the road bed completely demolished. The existence of this clause was the pretext given for disallowing the charter of the New Westminster and Southern Railway. During the session of 1883-4 the assurance was given by SIR CHARLES TUPPER, voicing, no doubt, the views of the company, that so soon as the trunk line was completed the monopoly clause would be waived. Acting upon this pledge the Winnipeg Board of Trade have already taken the matter in hand, and are pressing the government for an assurance that no further disallowance of charters given by the local legislature will be granted. They esteem it a matter of consequence to the settlement and development of the material resources of the Northwest that connection should be had with the railways of Minnesota and Dakota, and that the regulation of rates caused by competition should be enjoyed. The Minister of the Interior was waited upon relative to the matter but he was not in a position to speak of the matter which depends primarily upon the railway department and afterwards upon the Ministry as a whole, but he seems to have had no hesitation in recognizing that the reasons which warranted the exercise of the power of disallowance in the past have been greatly weakened by the completion of the line north of Lake Superior and that enjoying the advantage of a shorter and more direct outlet, the Canadian Pacific company ought to be able to compete successfully, in the presence of American rivalry, not only for the traffic of the Canadian Northwest, but also for that of Minnesota and Dakota.

Chicago women have formed a club to solve the servant girl problem. The club will establish a training school for servants in which all branches of household work shall be thoroughly taught, the classes meeting in the evening for the servants' accommodation. In connection with this school the club will run an intelligence office in which the servants will be classified and graded according to ability.

THE LOATHSOME DISEASE.

With unabated ferocity the smallpox epidemic in Montreal continues. The mortality rate is close upon one hundred per day. It was hoped at one time that the advent of cool weather would have a favorable effect upon the epidemic, but no marked change has yet taken place. Commenting upon the pitiful condition of that city the Star, in a recent issue, says: To day Montreal is being devastated by a plague which gives death, and that in a hideous form, threefold power; and as in matters of comparatively little importance, solicitation must be the principal means of inducing action. Mark the city's position! Thousands of its infants are in peril of their lives, because their natural guardians are ignorant or negligent of the fact that a simple vaccine point is an insurance policy of almost absolute protective power. Shall any effort necessary to abate fatal ignorance or negligence be withheld? Solicitation here is the work which can best prevail in restoring the city's health and prosperity. Who can best perform it? Every man and woman respected for knowledge, experience and character. Every employer, from the artisan sharing the bench with his few work people, to the millionaire controlling a thousand. Every teacher, every pastor, every one with gift of tongue or pen, who can disarm prejudice, intelligently present facts, and give misapprehension light. Each one of us is his brother's keeper in this matter, and responsible for the right use of influence with him if he disregards the one secure shield from deadly diseases. Our calamity levels all conventional distinctions. It has borne to the grave a thousand infants from the suburbs, and laid low a venerable statesman in his mansion. If Montcalm street is devastated in a thousand ways, Sherbrooke street is constrained to sympathy. Infection conveyed by a servant has gone to the stately portals of a steamship king from a humble dwelling near a market place. No aristocracy of wealth or position exempts any citizen of Montreal from the universal loss and grief of its epidemic. Nor is any citizen exempt from his duty in abating the epidemic by extending to at least one household the one safeguard in these hours of jeopardy.

NOT AS IT SHOULD BE.

The Sound steamer Geo. E. Starr arrived about 12 o'clock last night and left again at 1:30 a. m. The detention was due to the breaking of a connection pin, which was repaired at Port Townsend. The mails were not landed, because, it is said, there was no person to receive them. With the utmost respect for the customs of our ancestors and the traditions of a bygone age, THE TIMES is still impelled by the progressive spirit of the present to protest against the continuance of a practise that would not be tolerated in any other city on the continent. Some people seem to forget that this is the age of steam and electricity, and that the lumbering stage coach has become a memory of the past. Victoria is a city of 12,000 people, the political and commercial capital of a great province, and represents its population being considered, more varied and more important interests than any other city in the Dominion. It has but one mail per day and is satisfied with the service. Yet, when the steamer which conveys it is detained by an accident, which is liable to happen at any time, no arrangement is made to receive the mails, and they are carried back to Tacoma, to return again some other day! Shade of ROLAND HILL! was there ever anything so absurd—so intolerably, so economically ridiculous—since the establishment of a postal service! Every city, town, village and hamlet in the United Kingdom, and in the U. S. and Canada, be it a daily, weekly or monthly mail that it receives, by coach, train or steamer, has its mail carrier on hand at the point of transference, and there he waits until he receives it. But we do these things differently in Victoria. A steamboat may wait, or the public may be disappointed, but the regular routine of an official must not be broken, or the hours of his slumbers unnecessarily disturbed.

THE result of the British elections next month is being freely canvassed. One Liberal ex-cabinet minister, rather famous for figures, said the best the Liberals possibly can expect is a majority of 40 over the Tories and Parnellites. The other, a member of the present cabinet, and a man often called the leader of the Conservative party, said the Liberals could not get more than a majority of six. This would be too small to work with. He therefore thought there would be no change of ministry. He confidently expects to hold office at least two years longer. MR. PARNELL expects 87 followers. The total of the the new Parliament will consist of 670 members.

THE DUKE OF ABERCORN, father of LADY LANSDOWNE, who celebrated not long ago his golden wedding, lives now almost entirely at his home, Baronscourt, in the north of Ireland, in a sort of patriarchal style. He has no neighbors, scarcely, as he owns every acre for miles around, but the immense mansion is always full of his children, grandchildren, and great grandchildren. The HAMILTON family are looked upon as semi-royal and are very popular by reason largely of gracious manners and good looks.

THE discontent in local Conservative circles at Ottawa against the present Ministerial organ finds expression in the publication of an independent Conservative newspaper on and after the 26th instant. The principal financial backers are well known supporters of the Dominion Conservative party.

DYSPEPSIA.

Sedentary habits, mental worry, nervous excitement, excess or indiscretions in eating or drinking, and various other causes, induce Constipation followed by general derangement of the liver, kidneys, and stomach, in which the disorder of each organ becomes intensified by the others. The leading characteristics are Loss of Appetite, Nausea, Foul Breath, Heartburn, Flatulence, Headache, Sick Headaches, Intense feelings of physical and mental vigor, distressing sense of weight or fullness in the stomach, and increased Costiveness, all of which are known under the general term of Dyspepsia.

In every instance where the disease does not originate from scrofulous taint in the blood, AYER'S PILLS may be confidently relied upon to effect a cure. Those cases that are not reached by the curative influence of AYER'S PILLS may be confidently relied upon will certainly yield if the PILLS are used in conjunction with the powerful blood-purifying properties of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA.

Dyspeptics should know that the longer treatment of their malady is postponed, the more difficult of cure it becomes.

Ayer's Pills

Never fail to relieve the bowels and promote their healthful and regular action, and thus cure Dyspepsia. Temporary palliatives all do permanent harm. The fitful activity into which the enfeebled stomach is spurred by "bitters," and alcoholic stimulants, is invariably followed by reaction that leaves the organ weaker than before.

"Costiveness, induced by my sedentary habits of life, became so acute, AYER'S PILLS afforded me speedy relief. Their occasional use has since kept me all right." HERMANN DRESBACH, Newark, N. J.

"I was induced to try AYER'S PILLS as a remedy for Indigestion, Constipation, and Headaches, from which I had long been a sufferer. I found their action easy, and obtained prompt relief. They have benefited me more than all the other medicines I have ever taken." M. V. WALKER, 522 State St., Chicago, Ill.

"They have entirely corrected the costive habit, and vastly improved my general health." REV. FRANCIS H. HARLOWE, Atlanta, Ga.

"The most effective and the easiest physic I have ever found. One dose will quickly move my bowels and free my head from pain." W. I. PAGE, Richmond, Va.

"I suffer from Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, and Neuralgia for the last twenty years. AYER'S PILLS have benefited me more than any medicine I have ever taken." P. R. COOKE, Newbern, Bruns Co., Va.

"For Dyspepsia they are invaluable." J. T. HAYES, Berlin, Texas.

A BY-LAW

For raising the sum of $16,000 to provide for and improve the Public Lighting of the City of Victoria.

WHEREAS the present Public Lighting of the City of Victoria is inefficient, and it is expedient and necessary to extend and improve the same, and for that purpose to raise by way of loan, upon the credit of the said city the sum of $16,000.

And whereas it will require the sum of $1,336 to be raised annually by special rate for the payment of the debt intended to be hereby created and the interest thereon.

And whereas the amount of the whole rateable property of the said city, according to the last revised assessment roll, is $5,000,000.

And whereas it will require an annual special rate of 1.32 of one cent in the dollar for paying the interest and creating an equal yearly sinking fund for paying the principal of the said intended debt according to the Municipality Act, 1881.

Be it therefore enacted by the Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria as follows:

1. It shall be lawful for the Mayor of the said city to raise by way of loan from any person or persons, body or bodies corporate, who may be willing to advance the same upon the credit of the debentures hereinafter mentioned, a sum of money not exceeding in the whole the sum of $16,000, and to cause the same to be paid into the hands of the Treasurer of the said city for the purpose and with the object hereinbefore recited.

2. 6. It shall be lawful for the said Corporation from time to time to repurchase any of the said debentures at such price or prices as shall in each case be mutually agreed, and all debentures so repurchased shall be forthwith cancelled, and no release of debentures or of any debenture shall be made in consequence of such repurchase.

7. This By-Law shall, before the final passing thereof, receive the assent of the electors of the said Corporation in the manner provided by the Municipality Act 1881, and shall take effect on from and after the day of the final passing thereof.

CHAPTER XI.

MR. JAMES MAKES ATONEMENT.

James arrived as usual in the morning at nine o'clock, in order to take down the shutters. To his astonishment he found Lala Roy and Iris waiting for him in the tack shop. And they had grave faces.

"James," said Iris, "your master has suffered a great shock, and is not himself this morning. His safe has been broken open by some one, and most important papers have been taken out."

"Pap-p-p, miss—papers! Out of the safe?"

"Yes. They are papers of no value whatever to the thief, whoever he may be. But they are of the very greatest importance to us. Your master seems to have lost his memory for a while, and cannot help us in finding out who has done this wicked thing. You have been a faithful servant for so long that I am sure you will do what you can for us. Think for us. Try to remember if anybody besides yourself has had access to this room when your master was out of it."

James sat down. He felt that he must sit down, though Lala Roy was looking at him with eyes full of doubt and suspicion. The whole enormity of his own guilt, though he had not stolen anything, fell upon him. He had got the key; he had given it to Mr. Joseph; and he had received it back again. In fact, at that very moment it was lying in his pocket. The worst that he had feared had happened. The safe was robbed.

He was struck with so horrible a dread and so fearful a looking forward to judgment and condemnation that his teeth chattered and his eye gave way.

"You will think it over, James" said Iris "think it over, and tell us presently if you can remember anything."

"Think it over, Mr. James," Lala Roy repeated in his deepest tone, and with an emphatic gesture of his right forefinger. "Think it over carefully. Like a lamp that is never extinguished are the eyes of the faithful servant."

They left him, and James fell back into his chair with hollow cheek and beating heart.

"He told me," he murmured—"oh, the villain!—he swore to me that he had taken nothing from the safe. He said he only looked in it, and read the contents. The scoundrel! He has stolen the papers! He must have known they were there. And then, to save himself, he put me on to the job. For who would be suspected if not—oh, Lord!—if not me?"

He grasped his paste-brush and attacked his work with a feverish anxiety to find relief in exertion; but his heart was not in it, and presently a thought pierced his brain, as an arrow pierceth the heart, and under the pang and agony of it his face turned ashy pale, and the big drops stood upon his brow.

"For," he thought, "suppose that the thing gets abroad; suppose they were to advertise a reward; suppose the man who made the key were to see the advertisement or to hear about it! And he knows my name, too, and my business; and he'll let out for a reward—I know he will—who it was that ordered that key of him."

Already he saw himself examined before a magistrate; already he saw in imagination that locksmith's man who made the key kissing the Testament, and giving his testimony in clear and distinct words, which could not be shaken.

"Oh, Lord! oh, Lord!" he groaned. "No one will believe me, even if I do confess the truth; and as for him, I know him well; if I go to him, he'll only laugh at me. But I must go to him—I must!"

He was so goaded by his terror that he left the shop unprotected—a thing he had never thought to do—and ran as fast as he could to Joe's lodgings. But he had left them; he was no longer there; he had not been there for six weeks; the landlady did not know his address, or would not give it. Then James felt sick and dizzy, and would have sat down on the doorstep and cried but for the look of the thing. Besides, he remembered the unprotected shop. So he turned away sadly and walked back, well understanding now that he had fallen like a fool into a trap, artfully set to fasten suspicion and guilt upon himself.

When he returned he found the place full of people. Mr. Emblem was sitting in his customary place, and he was smiling. He did not look in the least like a man who had been robbed. He was smiling pleasantly and cheerfully. Mr. Chalker was also present, a man with whom no one ever smiled, and Lala Roy, solemn and dignified, and a man—an unknown man—who sat in the outer shop, and seemed to take no interest at all in the proceedings. Were they come, he asked himself, to arrest him on the spot?

Apparently they were not, for no one took the least notice of him, and they were occupied with something else. How could they think of anything else? Yet Mr. Chalker, standing at the table, was making a speech which had nothing to do with the robbery.

"Here I am, you see, Mr. Emblem," he said; "I have told you already that I don't want to do anything to worry you. Let us be friends all round. This gentleman, your friend from India, will advise you, I am sure, for your own good, not to be obstinate. Lord! what is the amount, after all, to a substantial man like yourself? A substantial man, I say." He spoke confidently, but he glanced about the shop with doubtful eyes. "Granted that it was borrowed to get your grandson out of a scrape—supposing he promised to pay it back and hasn't done so; putting the case that it has grown and developed itself as bills will do, and can't help doing, and can't be stopped; it isn't the fault of the lawyers, but the very nature of a bill to go on growing—it's likes baby for growing. Why, after all, you may stopped at a barber shop and had Willie's hair clipped with a horse-clipping machine, so the Indians couldn't get hold of it to scalp him.

SHAVING THE INDIAN FIGHTER'S HEAD.

Jimmy drew his $9 out of the savings bank and bought Willie a pair of long trousers. Willie put them on, but took them off again. He thought the sight of his long shanks in knee-breeches would scare the Indian far more than a pair of legs in plain long trousers, and maybe he was right.

They hired an old gun from a farmer, bought a dollar's worth of powder and ball, and started after the "infernal redskins." That was what the story paper called it. They went into the country roads and searched the woods all through. They tramped five solid hours without stopping, but did not see a single Indian. They did not find a highway robber, a buffalo, or even a bad man who was carrying off a lovely maiden. No, they did not so much as meet a billygoat who butted at them. Nobody wanted to fight anybody or anything.

They tramped until their feet were blistered and they were tired almost to death. Besides that they were awfully hungry. So they stole back to the village where Willie had had his hair shaved, and got dinner at the hotel. It was a good thing they were not in a real Indian country, or there wouldn't have been any hotel there. Each boy ate as much as ever he could hold. Then their money was all gone but thirteen cents.

Where should they "camp out" in this wild country? I'm ashamed to tell you where they did sleep. It was such a come down from their lofty ideas. The facts, after it got dark they sneaked into a big henroop, and lay there all night with the chickens roosting over them. How was this compared to Jimmy's soft, little white bed at home?

INDIAN FIGHTERS IN THE HENCOOP.

In the morning a great old rooster with long spurs flew down and landed exactly on poor Jimmy's hair.

"Cocoorl! cocoorl! cocoo!" crowed the old rooster.

"Ow-w!" screamed Jimmy, starting up wildly. He thought the Indians were scalping him, sure.

The four slowly arose and stretched themselves. They were stiff, tired and sore, and Oh! so awfully hungry. They were ashamed to look one another in the face.

"I say, boys," said Johnny, speaking first, "I don't believe there are any Indians at all. It's all a big lie in the story papers."

He went away from the hencoop. He never looked behind him, but walked straight to the railway station. He boarded the first train to New York city. He had no money to pay his fare. But he looked so sick and so hungry and so very sorry that the kind hearted conductor let him ride free. He walked home. His father and mother were so awfully glad to see him that they forgot to scold him. I'm rather glad they didn't scold him.

The other boys went to the next station. There it was plain to be seen that they were runaways. They were locked up in the police station. Then they were sent home. They also got no licks. They had had enough of Indian fighting. It wasn't what they thought it was. Willie's big sisters were the madness. They said they would make him wear girl's clothes for a week to punish him for running away. But they didn't really do it, you know.

ELIZA ARCHARD.

Best of Gen. Grant.

(Chicago Tribune.)

The bad mule by Karl Gerhardt, Mark Twain's partner of Gen. Grant, is said to be so faithful that it aroused the admiration of the general. The enthusiast thinks was so good that in March last, while Grant was ill, a friend took it to his family. The general saw and admired it and invited the friend to visit him and complete the bust in his life-long life. Presently Gen. Grant, glancing from his bed to the mirror, said: "Boys, take it again; it seems to me perfect."

Americans projected, but not yet have control the street railroads of Moscow.

BOYS AND GIRLS

How Four Boys Went Indian Fighting.

There were four New York boys who were not happy. They had read thrilling tales of Texas cowboys and Wild Bill Indian stories till it made their hair stand on end. They thought life was not worth living unless they could go and be cowboys. Jimmy was 16 years old. He had a nice, cute little home with his father and mother. Besides all this, he had a good trade. He earned $7 a week cutting blocks for a wall-paper printing factory. He had already $9 put away in a savings bank.

But Jimmy read the 5-cent Indian-scalping story papers, and went quite off his head. He did not know the Indian stories were written by people who never saw an Indian in their lives except those on a tobacco sign.

Johnny was another boy, 15 years old, who earned good wages and had a nice home. Willie was 15, too. He lived with his sisters. They had plenty of money, and Willie did not have to work or do much of anything. But he had a grievance.

He lay awake nights brooding over it till he began to think he was the worst used boy in the world. It was this: His sisters would not let him wear long trousers. He was small for his age, and it isn't the fashion any more for boys to wear long pants till they get quite large.

So Willie resolved to run away and scalp Indians. A fellow who sold newspapers determined to go, too. He was 25 years old, and was expected to know better, but he didn't. These four young idiots actually seemed to think that there were Indians all around New York still, and all they had to do was to get an old gun and go out and bang away at them. They got together, these four smart youths, and ran away. They went to a little railway station about twenty miles out of New York. There

THE METHODIST BAZAAR.

The attendance at the bazaar in Philharmonic Hall last evening was not so large as on Tuesday, but the different booths seemed to be doing a fair good business. The articles of fancy work were rich and attractive, and those who had them in charge were assiduous in their endeavors to dispose of them. During the evening Mrs. Hampson was presented, on behalf of the ladies of the Methodist Church, with an elegant dress, made by Mrs. Langley. The presentation was made by Mrs. Jeffree, and an address was read by Mrs. Pendray. The recipient made a suitable reply. It is gratifying to learn that the bazaar has been a success in every respect, the total amount realized being in the neighborhood of $900. The proceeds will be devoted towards the building fund of the new church on the Gorge road. The proceedings were brought to a close at an early hour.

THE LICENSE LAW.

A charge was to-day preferred against Redon & Hartnagle, of the Driard, with having contravened the license law by selling liquor at the new Victoria Theatre, and the case will be heard in the Police Court to-morrow. The portion of the new building, not devoted to the theatre, has been leased by the proprietors of the Driard for hotel purposes, and the room in which the alleged sale of liquors took place will shortly be occupied as the bar-room. In fixing up a temporary bar, during the opening of the theatre, the hotel proprietors were, and still are, under the impression that they were acting within the law and under the license held for the Driard House. The point is one for the lawyers and the court to decide.

ROBBERY.

An intoxicated man was robbed this afternoon by a man named John Minor, in the bar of the American Hotel. It appears a stranger came in and no notice was taken of him till he suddenly ran out, when Mr. Burns, Junr., suspecting something, followed him to the California Saloon. In the meantime, the bar-keeper had searched the inebriate, and found that his money was gone, of which he told Mr. Burns when he returned, who at once gave information to the police, and Constable Grant arrested the thief in the California Saloon.

CITY DEBENTURES.

A number of applications were received by the City Clerk for the municipal debentures issued under the authority of the Public Lighting and Drainage by-laws. The highest offer was that of Messrs. Loewenburg, Harris & Co., agents for the investors, of 101½, which has been accepted. The debentures for the whole amount, $21,000, will be taken by this firm. The sale is considered to be a very good one, although, considering the first-class nature of the security, and that the coupons bear six per cent interest, it would not have been surprising had a higher offer been made.

A SLOW, TARDY TRAVELER.

On the 6th instant a letter was mailed and registered at the Victoria postoffice for Seattle. It was an important letter, but after wandering about the Sound for a couple of weeks it reached its destination on the 20th, last Tuesday. Considering that the distance is less than 100 miles, the mail-rate progress made by the missive was not so bad in this age of wonderful things, when steam and electricity almost annihilates space and time. For small mercies, even in mail matters, we are supposed to be thankful.

THEATRE COMIQUE.

The programme at the Theatre Comique was very attractive last night, but the attendance was not large, the paucity of numbers being due to the attractions elsewhere. Miss Carry Hoyt, Billy Goodrich, Riley, Fern, Kitty Goodwin and the other actors, were loudly encored. In their several specialties they have seldom been excelled in the city. A new programme to-night. Prices of admission 50 and 25 cents.

MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE.

Mr. Aaron Woods, a well known miner of Wellington, has disappeared. He left a letter behind him stating that he was unable to obtain work and that he would make away with himself. Search parties are out, but as yet they have discovered no trace of him. His friends are in a great state of anxiety, and fear that he has accomplished the end he had in view.

FROM THE FAR NORTH.

Mr. John Grant, M. P. P., who arrived by the Idaho this afternoon, left a branch of the Mackenzie river, 110 miles north of the Arctic slope on the 12th inst. He looks the picture of good health and is in excellent spirits.

GRACE HAYTHORNE.

Another large audience assembled at the Victoria Theatre last night to greet the charming and talented Grace Hawthorne, who with the assistance of her excellent company, gave our theatre-goers another treat in their presentation of that charming and delightful comedy-drama "Frou-Frou." Miss Hawthorne's portrayal of Gilberte, the gay young girl and foolish wife and mother who deserted her home and mother for an erring lover, was a difficult task, but she mastered it as only a true artist can. Her conception of every phase of this peculiar character was perfect, and by this performance she has strengthened the opinions previously expressed as to her wonderful talents. Mr. W. F. Clifton was exceedingly clever as Sartory, the injured husband, in fact, Mr. Clifton is one of the best leading men we have had in Victoria. The character of DeValreas was assumed by Mr. Walter Adrian who did remarkably well and to his credit be it said that he fairly divided the honors with Mr. Clifton. Mr. Logan Paul was already, quite a favorite here, but it remained for the performance of the "Baron" to stamp him as a comedian of unusual talent. Miss Bertie Willis played Louise in her usual charming manner and Messrs. Garey and Cooper and Misses Dapelle and Denmon deserve especial mention for the careful treatment of the different characters assigned them. To-night a still greater treat is in store, for on this occasion Miss Hawthorne will by special request, favor us with her famous impersonation of "Miss Multon," a character which is both difficult and trying, and in the interpretation of which Clara Morris and Grace Hawthorne have both made themselves as famous as the character itself. On Friday night the first production of "Arrienne LeCouvreur" will be given. This will evidently be the society event of the week.

THE CONSISTENT "COLONIST."

Time, in its whirligig, brings about wonderful changes. The Colonist this morning lands the Dominion government to the skies, and predicts, at this remote period, the election of a united contingent in its support from this province. In 1878 it was otherwise with the Colonist; but being a stranger to consistency our ancient envy brother wears a political coat of many colors, the hues of which remind us of the chameleon. "Flopping" agrees with our contemporary so long as the inducements are of a glittering substantial nature. A revised edition of the Colonist for the past ten years is reported to be on the tapis, with notes by the author. The work will be an interesting one, especially that portion in which the burning of the effigy of its editor took place in front of the Colonist office, on the 22nd of October, 1878, when Sir John Macdonald and Hon. Amor DeCosmos were elected as the city's representatives.

UNHEARD OF CRIMES.

All the highway robberies perpetrated in the city do not come to the ears of the public, because it sometimes happens that the victim is opposed to the publicity that a prosecution would entail. An instance in point happened early this week, when one of our citizens, Mr. R., was navigating his way homeward through the uncertain light and shadow of the electric light. He was accosted near the Albion Works by a couple of "Dick Turpins," his pockets rifled of $50, his boots pulled from his feet, his hat taken from his head, and thus despoiled was allowed to proceed on the even tenor of his way. Felonies of this kind have become alarmingly frequent of late, and it will soon be necessary, for the preservation of order and the suppression of crime, grown rampant from immunity of punishment, for the "powers that be" to discard the present lenient policy of dealing with this particular class of offenders.

GRANITE CREEK.

The Teaser arrived at 3 p. m. with thirty-five passengers and twenty tons of freight, principally farm produce. Among her passengers were three miners from Granite Creek, who are down for provisions, and will return to the diggings as soon as they have secured their supplies. They report the mining prospects still keeping bright, and the claims all paying handsomely. One piece, worth $86, has been found since last reports, thus indicating the extent of the trade that has sprung up in a few short months, the Teaser on her last trip up carried fifty tons of freight, all destined for Granite Creek. The miners are hopeful that equally as rich and more extensive diggings will be discovered this season, as prospectors are out in every direction, and the country is now known to be rich in auriferous deposits.

NEW COAL DISCOVERY

We understand that during the researches of Mr. W. A. Robertson on Queen Charlotte Island, a magnificient seam of coal was discovered. Samples were brought down to this city and have been sent to the Assayer. The seam, where struck, is six feet thick and from the conformation of the ground, an immense plain of thousands of acres in extent, there is almost absolute certainty that the bed is practically unlimited in extent. The gentlemen interested are Victorians, and they will at the earliest possible moment proceed to the development of the new mine. Mr. Robertson was successful in other ways, and important results are likely to spring from his expedition.

ANOTHER COAL, WOOD AND LUMBER YARD.

A new coal, wood and lumber yard has been opened at Laurel Point, Mr. H. A. Harrison being the manager in charge, a gentleman well and favorably known in this city. He has the agency for the Chemainus Saw Mills, and will keep constantly on hand rough and dressed lumber, shingles, laths, &c., but seasoned lumber will form a specialty. They have also a full supply of the famous Wellington coal. Their telephone call is 590.

It is understood that Hon. Mr. Taillon, Attorney-General, Hon. Mr. Wurtele, Speaker of the Assembly, and other prominent legal gentlemen, have given it as their opinion that the Provincial Board of Health is legally constituted, and that the idea to the contrary that has been entertained is incorrect.

Arther Pearce, who was sentenced to the penitentiary for life for the murder of his wife at Brantford 15 years ago, has been pardoned by the Governor-General and released.

The Montreal customs authorities have recently made a seizure of a consignment of linseed oil, valued at about $1800, imported by two Montreal firms, for undervaluation. The customs authorities claim that a portion of the value was suppressed in the duplicate invoice intended for the customs, and thus they detected the undervaluation. The linseed oil in question was purchased by a Glasgow firm.

It is rumored in Montreal that the Canadian Pacific intend to break up the telegraph monopoly, and at once construct a line over the whole Dominion with connections in the United States.

The experiment of working electric light by motive power from Montmorenci Falls has been so successful that the company is now working all their lights from that source.

The Steamship Idaho Arrives from the North.

Fatal Mining Accident—The Treadwell Mine.

NANAIMO, Oct. 22.—A land slide occurred in the basin. Powers, Cushman and an Indian were killed, on the 2nd of October, Power's body was found. At date Cushman's body had not been recovered. All the miners in the camp assisted in the search.

The Treadwell mine keeps up its reputation. The thickness of the quartz adjoining is eight hundred feet. The Haley quartz mines near Sitka were sold to Eastern capitalists who will build a mill to operate it.

Hughes and Dinsmore returned from the Yonkon. Fifteen miners will winter there. They made twelve to thirty dollars per day. The steward of the river steamer "New Rocket" took supplies to the miners.

The Idaho brings nearly one hundred thousand dollars.

CASSIAR, Oct. 14.—Over one hundred men are wintering in the mines. Excellent prospects have been found in Hill Channel, Dease lake. The outlook next season is good. Supplies for the miners are plentiful. Weather fine.

FULLER INFORMATION

from Mr. John Grant, M. P. P., who arrived in the city to-day from Nanaimo we gathered the following information. The accident happened on a hydraulic claim, owned by Powers and O'Leary. Powers, Cushman and three Indians were busy operating the pipes, when an immense land slide took place, which trended high up the gulch and carried away several acres of the claim to a depth in many places of forty feet. Two of the Indians escaped over a ridge with only a few bruises, but the others were last seen running down the gulch when the fearful avalanche swept over them. Instantly all work in the basin was suspended, and the entire water and every available pipe or giant turned upon the debris, in the forlorn hope of finding the unfortunate men still alive. But, alas! they had crossed the divide, and were free from the worry of uncertain operations and unrealized hopes. On the following day the body of the swash was recovered and turned over to his people. It was not until the afternoon of the 30th that the body of Powers was found, about forty earnest men, with a number of hydraulic streams, had been constantly at work searching. The remains of poor Mike was removed to his cabin and thence taken to town for interment, which took place on the 2nd inst., in the Gold Creek cemetery, in accordance with the rites of the Roman Catholic church. Mr. Powers was well known in Cassiar and was an energetic pioneer of this mining locality. The body of poor Cushman has not been found up to the present, although continual search has been going on, the citizens of Juneau City having contributed something like $500 to keep men at work washing the debris. The accident has been a serious loss to these parts, not less than $20,000, as at this particular time of the year many expect to clean up what they have been preparing during the season. Mr. Cushman was an Odd Fellow in good standing and brother of a Catholic priest who resides some where in Illinois.
